The Bombs

- 8 Crystalline Entity M
  Wipes their board and keeps yours if it's artifacts
- 2 The Wrath of Khan R
  Kills most creatures; the big ones attack their owner
- 6 Death Is Irrelevant M
  Your board becomes permanent, theirs becomes yours
- 4 Georgiou, Terran Emperor M
  Cards every turn, and death is not the end
- 3 U.S.S. Enterprise-A, Free Spirit M
  Brings its own crew and wins the race
- 3 Empress Galina M
  Half this set is legendary, and every turn one of them changes sides. Kill it on sight
- 3 U.S.S. Enterprise-D, Galaxy-Class R
  Three mana for an extra card every turn you charge it, then a 4/5 flyer that keeps them coming
- 3 U.S.S. Discovery, at Black Alert R
  A free spell every attack
- 5 Armus, Skin of Evil R
  A late-game monster, or removal when you need it
- 9 Deep Space 9 M
  Free permanents every turn
- 3 The City on the Edge of Forever R
  A reset button with a twist
- 4 Kenrith, the Returned King M
  General Picard, Earth Warlord on the Stardates sheet. A five-color toolbox that wins any long game
- 2 Sen Triplets M
  Every turn you cast their cards, and on your turn they cast nothing

Mana Base Rules

1. 16 lands. 17 if your spells average 3.5 mana or more, or you have lots of mana sinks.
2. A mana dork or rock costing 2 or less replaces the 17th land, never the 16th.
3. The first landcycler already counts as a land; all of them together, one land at most.
4. Only repeatable mana is a source (lands, dorks, rocks). Treasure is a bonus.
5. Splash bombs and removal: 3 sources at least, 4 is better (4+ if you splash 3+ cards).
6. A double-colored cost needs 6 sources of that color.
7. At most five cards costing 5+ in sealed, six in draft.
8. Keep 2 to 5 landers; mulligan 0, 1 (on the play), 6 and 7. Choose to play.

Tested on 875,442 decks of 17Lands data (episode #1 of My Rules vs The Data).
